Studying is a bent back and hunched shoulders, and sore eyes.
It's loneliness. It's humility;
it's arrogance. It's patience;
it's push.
It's the grind.

And sometimes . . . just sometimes . . . studying is something near joy . . . under the lulling cacaphony of a hair dryer.

Administration and Academics

Mr. Charles Behnke, Wonderful Scene-Changer #1, begins the faculty's day by preparing that life-giving liquid, coffee.

The morning glories of the faculty parking lot: Bongo Bonner, imported at great expense; Mr. Murray with the free teaching aids from Teachers' Convention; Mr. Ritchie's Dodge; Mr. Behnke looking for WOKY; Mr. Breister's Ford; Mr. Heaps, Chief Mechanic; Miss Holz and her Falcon, smiling.

Mike
Good Luck
at Protgers 80?? and in your Senior Year Nancy C.

All of the above: MR. DOUGLAS S. RITCHIE, PRINCIPAL

Administration

All the Anacin, Bufferin, and Alka-Seltzer in the world won't put our principal together again. Individually, the faculty, students, and school take their problems to him, not realizing their collective impact.

A moment of respite between rounds.

Working to keep office records in order and the books balanced, students calmed down before meeting Mr. Ritchie, and the sale of paperbacks, a booming business, are MRS. LOUISE ROSS, NANCY KERTCHER, and CAROL GOEBEL. Superintendent of Schools, MR. FRANK HOEHN, relies on their help with the paper work involved in running education.

Miss Virginia Holz, Miss Carol Slomka, Mr. John Angelos, Mr. Michael Price.

English

MISS VIRGINIA HOLZ has been teaching Junior English here since she graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1903. Extra-curricularly, she advises the Annual and coaches the drama coach. She enjoys going to plays, traveling, eating out, and laughing.

Pronounce her name right, spell her name right, and you'll be a friend of MISS CAROL SCHLUMPKA. If that doesn't work, try waving a pom-pom to a Polish beat. As a last resort, study English 9 or 10.

MR. JOHN ANGELOS, head of the English Department stamps out illiteracy in the 12th grade. Seniors can testify that his free time must be spent correcting papers, making out exams, and reading grammar books, with time out for Forensics.

"Speak the speech, as I pronounce it to you, trippingly on the tongue" is MR. MICHAEL PRICE'S advice to his Speech classes and Junior English Class. In his capacity as Drama Coach he uses this advice, but a bit more scurrilously. He enjoys going to plays, traveling, eating out and laughing.

El espanol ya no es griego cuando se ensena por EL SENOR FEDERICO PICARD como cualquier miembro del club espanol puede verificar. El club de los maestros del futuro tambien siente la influencia. Ole!

HERR GENE SAMSE denkt ins English and spricht ins Deutsch, oder ist es der andere Weg um? In keini Amgelegenhit, the German Club vollig verstht ihn wie ihre German und English Klassen. Auch tun. Un amour de la nourriture d'Orient semble a' bout position pour professeur typique de Francais et de English. Pourtant, MADemoiselle ALYCE VAN ROY est loin de typical. Son temps de la independance a devoue a la musique, le tir a l'arc, et le francais cercle.

Romana pars Port High mittat sine auxilio pretioso MR. WILLIAM BREISTER, head tennis coach. Ejus commodi continent docentem English et Latin et consilium dantem Latin Club.

Languages

Mr. Fred Picard, Mr. Gene Samse, Miss Alyce Van Roy, Mr. Bill Breister.

Music-Art

Mr. John Kimball, Mr. Neal Widder,
Mr. John Angelos, Mr. Frank Braun.

Music and art have blended with literature, namely Senior English. Cultural backgrounds given in music by Mr. Widder and in art by Mr. Braun added depth to the traditional phases of English literature.

MR. JOHN KIMBALL, instrumental music and band instructor, adds his approving note to the proceedings. His interest in semi-classical music makes him a valuable resource in this humanities endeavor.

MR. NEAL WIDDER conveyed his love of baroque music to the project. His personal responsibilities to the curriculum involve high school and junior high choral work and the newly formed orchestra.

For two years MR. FRANK BRAUN, art instructor, has been commissioned to paint abstract representations of Port as gifts for our exchange schools. His part in the humanities project helped seniors brush up on their art history.

MR. JOHN ANGELOS, English instructor, stops to wonder how this whole thing got started.

Guidance

Being father-for-a-week to some thirty students from some exotic, far-away place such as Wyoming no longer phases MR. CHARLES BEHNKE, stalwart Guidance Counselor. He also guides the baseball and golf people during their respective seasons. His new car even has an automatic trunk opener to speed the golfers in their race to tee off. MR. VERNE APPLEMAN devoted his time to being a full-time Guidance Counselor and a part-time National Honor Society advisor. In between time, he spends his time camping. Students in MRS. BLANCHE ALDER'S Remedial and Developmental Reading classes should watch their reading speed, but not the clock. Be the student "who believes it is possible for you to learn more than you already know" and you'll be Mrs. Alder's favorite. Or you could always patronize her book store.

Mr. Charles Behnke, Mr. Verne Appleman, Mrs. Blanche Alder.

Reading

The smoke from Room 305 momentarily clears and Research Chemistry appears. Mad scientists Paul Schaefer, Carl Lindquist, and Bob Watry utilize the new Chemistry Lab to synthesize the 104th element.

Mathematics

Science

Mr. Don Lyndahl, Mr. Clarence DeGroot, Mr. Albert Nielsen, Mr. Roland Vertz, Mr. Thomas Thomas.

The power behind Port's wrestling team is MR. DON LYNDAHL. When he's not coaching wrestling, he livens up Geometry classes or the near-by ski slopes. MR. CLARENCE DEGROOT admires students who have "intellectual curiosity." This is the key to success in his Math 11 and 12 classes. He also advises the Student Council's intellectual curiosity. MR. ALBERT NIELSEN manages to infuse Physical Science and Physics students with some of his own effervescent enthusiasm and to spur the Electronics Club to greater achievements. MR. ROLAND VERTZ'S pet peeve is people who criticize teen-agers. He loves fried chicken, Dixieland jazz, and Physical Science 10. MR. THOMAS J. THOMAS supervises explosions in the Chemistry Lab and developments in the Camera Club's darkroom. His ideal student has good study habits and a natural curiosity.

Social

Science

In MR. JAMES MURRAY'S opinion, the Irish polka is the ultimate art form, or so he tells his U.S. History and American Problems seminars. After hours he helps the Varsity Football Squad and Freshman Basketball Team set new records.

When he's not scheduling ski trips to Wisconsin's snowless ski slopes or mediating disputes between dissenting prom theme factions, MR. WALTER KARST manages to find time to run U.S. History and American Problems seminars.

And now for a change of pace; the saving grace of the Social Science Department, a woman: MISS JEANNE VOGEL, World History and English instructor. After a hard day at the podium, she relaxes by reading science fiction novels or living up to Abigail Beecher's reputation. Between Miss Vogel and Mr. Heaps is an unidentified junior-high flying object. (Notice: his other leg IS there. It was not inadvertently chewed off by the Great White Whale.)

Ready to advise students about the Prom, chaperone Sports Nights, and build Homecoming Floats, MR. ROBERT HEAPS also insidiously plots American Problems and U.S. History lectures and seminars.

Mr. James Murray, Mr. Walter Karst, Miss Jeanne Vogel, Mr. Tom Stanley, Mr. Robert Heaps.

Changes in curriculum brought about the rise and subsequent fall of the team-teaching reich. This is the last year that students will experience a formal lecture such as this one. Here Mr. Murray has the seniors enthralled with a description of the U.S. income tax system with the aid of the overhead projector.

Business Education

Mr. Dale Tessmer, Miss Rosemary Haskey,
Mrs. Toni Smith, Miss Mary Liz Trewyn.

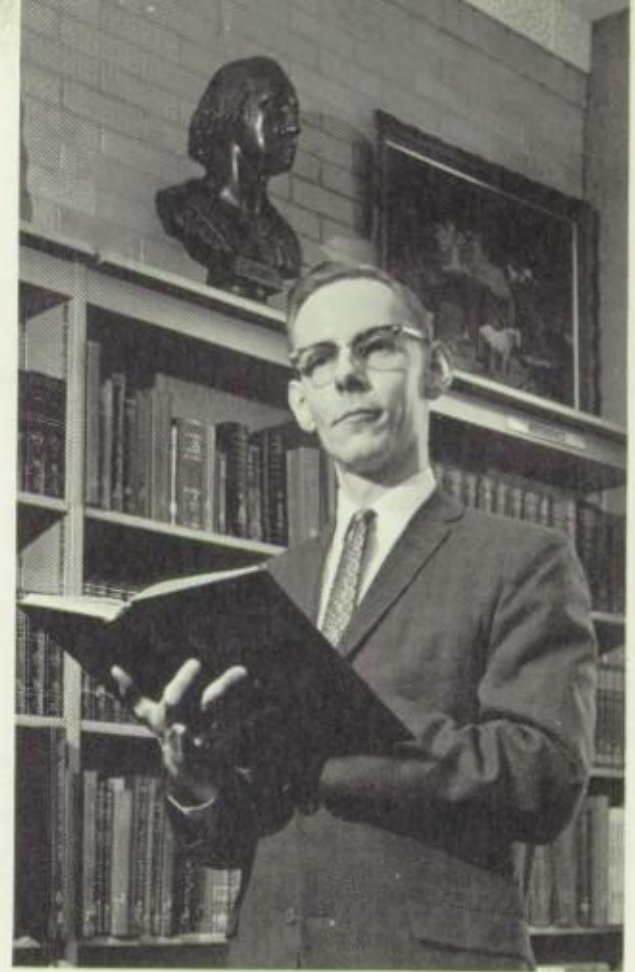

MR. DALE TESSMER'S passion for teaching students "who think for themselves" is evident in his Bookkeeping and Practical Economics classes and in his sponsorship of the Future Business Leaders of America. Shorthand and Typing are unusual subjects for the advisor of the Future Nurses' Club to be teaching, but MISS ROSEMARY HASKEY manages without too many problems or casualties.

MRS. TONI SMITH'S fascination for Port High is so magnetic that after a two-year absence, she has returned to teach two classes of Typing and Bookkeeping. Piloting the PIRATE and teaching Typing and Office Practice are MISS MARY LIZ TREWYN'S fortes.

Stout State College Alumni Association gathers daily to talk over old times in the north woods. One Stout fellow MR. LYLE TEPPEN acts as anchor man for the Industrial Arts Department.

MR. HOWARD MICHALSEN, industrial educator, is known to send someone for a left-handed monkey wrench knowing full well that that someone is right-handed. In addition to teaching Drafting and Woodworking MR. RICHARD ROCKUS is called upon for various building projects. Drama Club enlists him, his tools, and talent to dress their sets. MR. ROBERT BOYLE takes his life in his own hands when he teaches Driver Education. He relaxes from this strenuous work by hunting and fishing.

MR. JAMES KRAMER unlocks the library's secrets for students struggling with term papers and reports. Under his direction the library has become a rich and valued source of information.

Industrial Arts

Mr. Lyle Teppen, Mr. Howard Michalsen,
Mr. Richard Rokus, Mr. Robert Boyle.

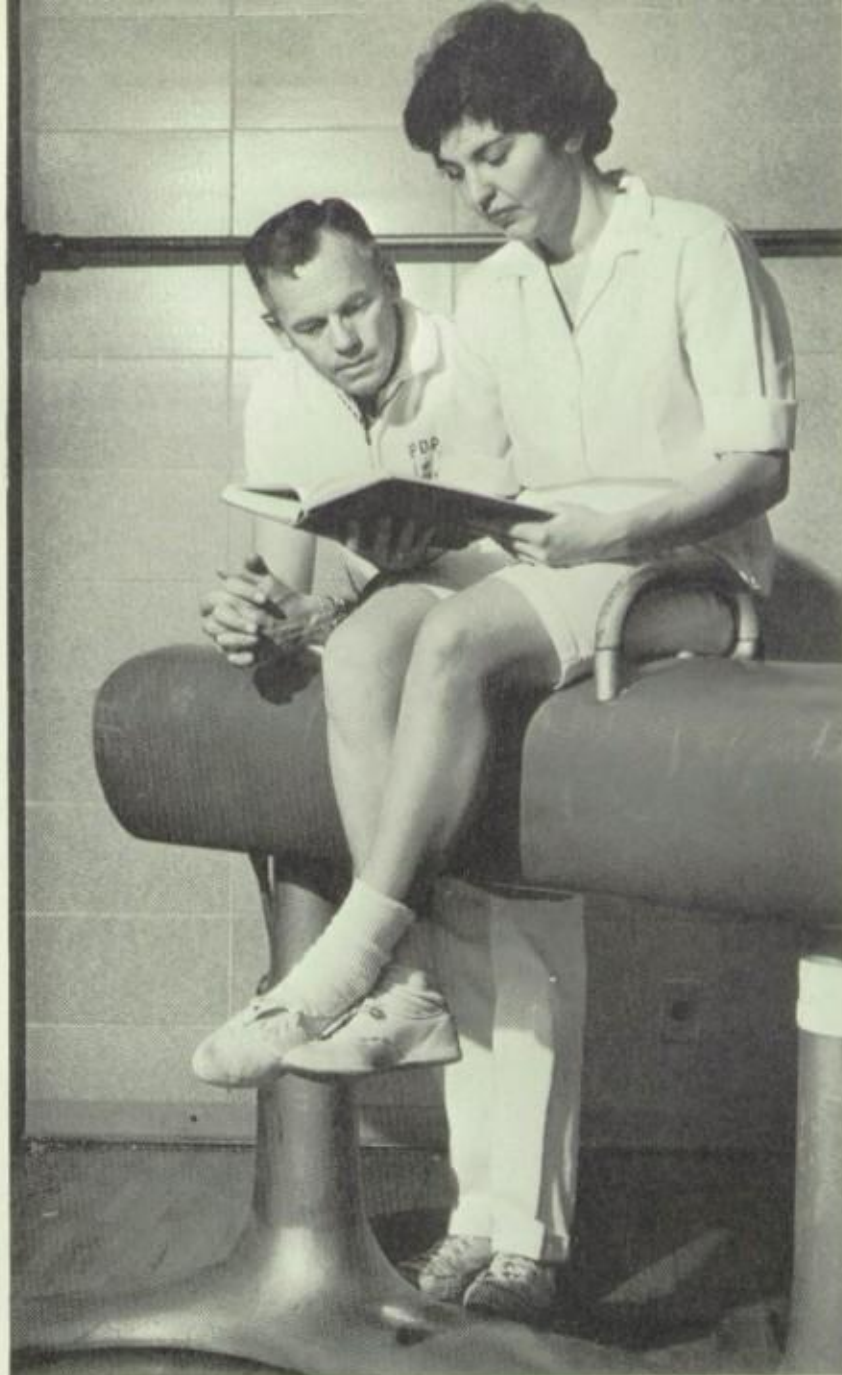

Physical Education

MISS CATHERINE BONNER, our energetic girls' Physical Education teacher, never tires of giving pointers on basketball or helping a student perfect an injury. She advises the Cheerleaders and GAA money-making projects. MR. JOHN WALSTRA'S love for steak provides him with energy needed for coaching Cross Country and Track and Field and teaching his Physical Education classes. He's known as the Good Humor Man.

Three cheers and six cheerleaders for the Physical Education Department from Pauline Schmit, Nola Scherer, Sharon Simons, Mary Dell Werking, Mary Hubing, and Kris Heinzelman rallying around the flag.

Custodians at this institution are known for their sweeping range of interests. They are interested in maintaining not only the building but also its cultural level. At this very moment, Mr. Henry Burton is checking a book out of the library.

Mr. John Walstra and Miss Catherine Bonner check over the National Report on smoking and cancer. They impress the students with their findings.

Custodians

Mr. Ray Theisen and Mr. John Bink with dictionaries are looking up words for Mr. George Bode studying WORD POWER.

Home Economics

The following is known as "filler" in both the journalistic and culinary circles.

Barbecued Beef and Buns

70 lbs. ground
1 1/2 gal. barbecue sauce
15 lbs. onions
35 lbs. celery
10 #10 cans tomatoes
2 #10 cans tomato paste
salt and pepper to taste
35 doz. buns.

Brown beef stirring so it will brown nicely. Add the barbecue sauce, celery, onions, and tomatoes and paste. Salt and papper to taste. Simmer. Split and toast buns. Ladle into the buns. 400 servings. Recipe can be easily modified to fit your personal needs.

Clockwise: tea canister, sugar canister, mixing bowl, Mrs. Barbara Behnke, Better Homes and Gardens New Cook Book, flour canister, strainer.

MRS. BARBARA BEHNKE has incorporated into her Home Economics Survey for senior girls. The course allows the girls a break in their male-oriented day.

Mary Dell Werking gets the goodies from cafeteria ladies Mrs. Bertha Schnieder, Mrs. Herman Bartelt, Mrs. Harriet Eischen, Mrs. Catherine Harrer.

Cafeteria Cooks

A year . . . so busy, so exhilarating, so quickly gone. And when it's gone, what's left? Words . . . music . . . food . . . laughter . . . greasepaint and footlights . . . Color Day . . . the Cheering Contest your class finally won . . . typewriters and deadlines . . . meetings . . . games . . . dances . . . words . . . music . . . food . . . laughter.

Varsity Football

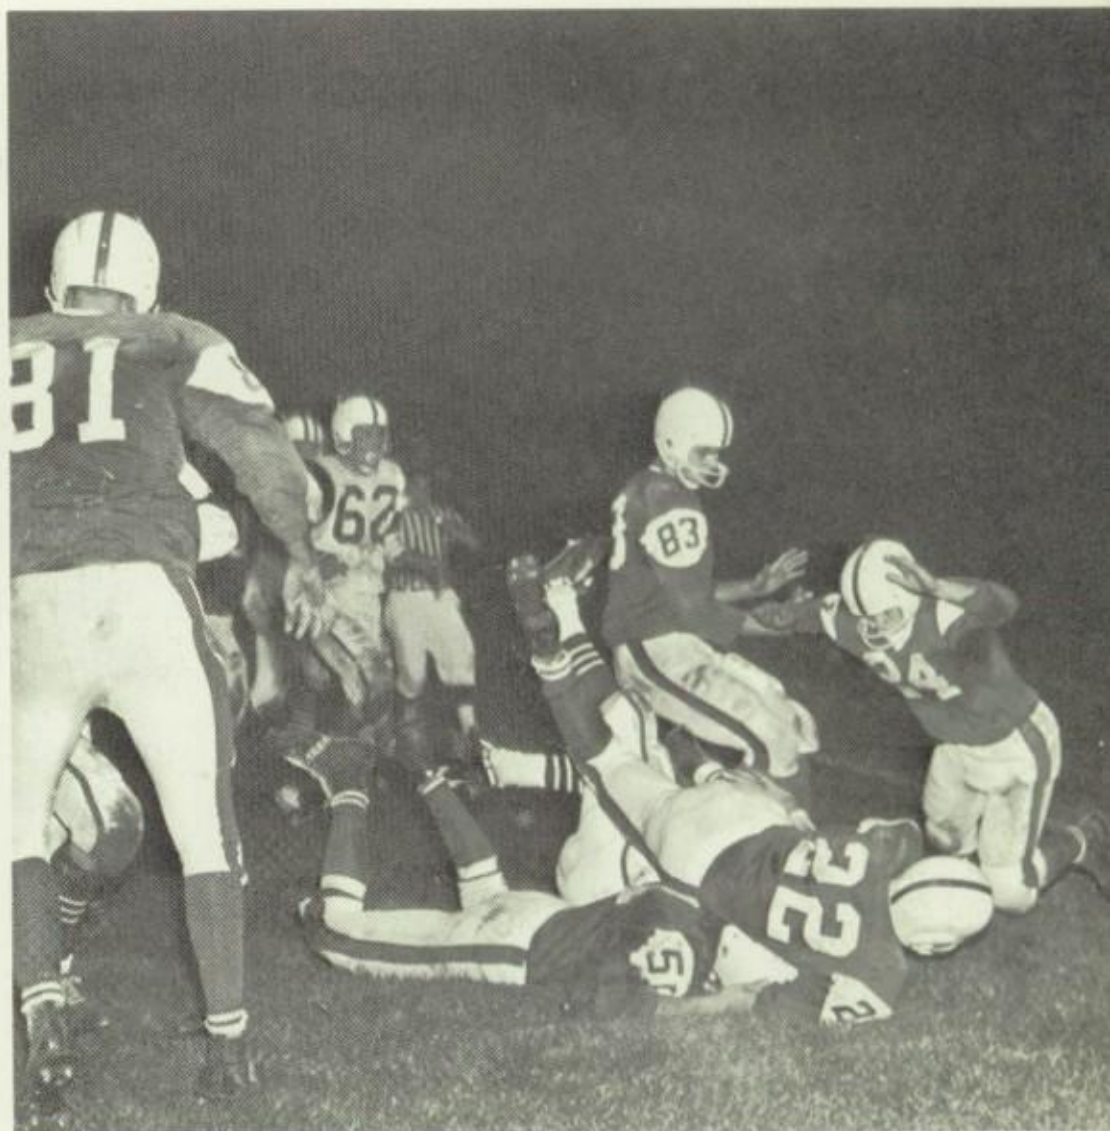

One of the best years attendance-wise, this football season showed the need for added seating capacity. Homecoming left standing room only and not even enough of that as almost all the school, Port, itself, alumni from way back, and the opposition attended. The spirit remained undaunted through this injury-ridden year. Charging off the gridiron after a thorough trouncing of Hamilton, our eleven-plus looked back after a slightly frustrating but over-all successful season. A fairly young team, 17 lettermen are returning next year.

The success of any team is largely accredited to its coaches. Mr. James Murray, head coach, Mr. Al Umess, junior varsity coach; Mr. Dick DeMario, assistant varsity coach, saw that the character and morale of the team never was lost.

Opponents found Port's defense ubiquitous.

New seven-way stretch pants plus agility helped the Pirates reach new goals.

The pursuit and desire of these Pirates emulate the spirit shown all season.

Dennis Esselmann, this year's most valuable player, stands tall in the eyes of friend and foe. Dennis walked off with an all-conference nomination and a four-year tuition scholarship to Iowa State.

Junior Varsity

A seesaw battle typified this year's action.

Many games pended on the LAISSEZ
FAIRE of the referees.

Port's six-foot plus front wall earned the reputation as fierce rebounders.

The huddle displayed the cool, level-headedness and clear thinking of this year's team and coach. Happiness is a well-organized huddle.

"Don't shoot until you see the whites of his eyes."

Varsity Wrestlers

Wrestling is a sport of rough individualism. To do or die can easily be the motto of a wrestler. Repetition and boredom cause many an aspiring wrestler to quit. This could well be a pat on the back for the veteran wrestler.

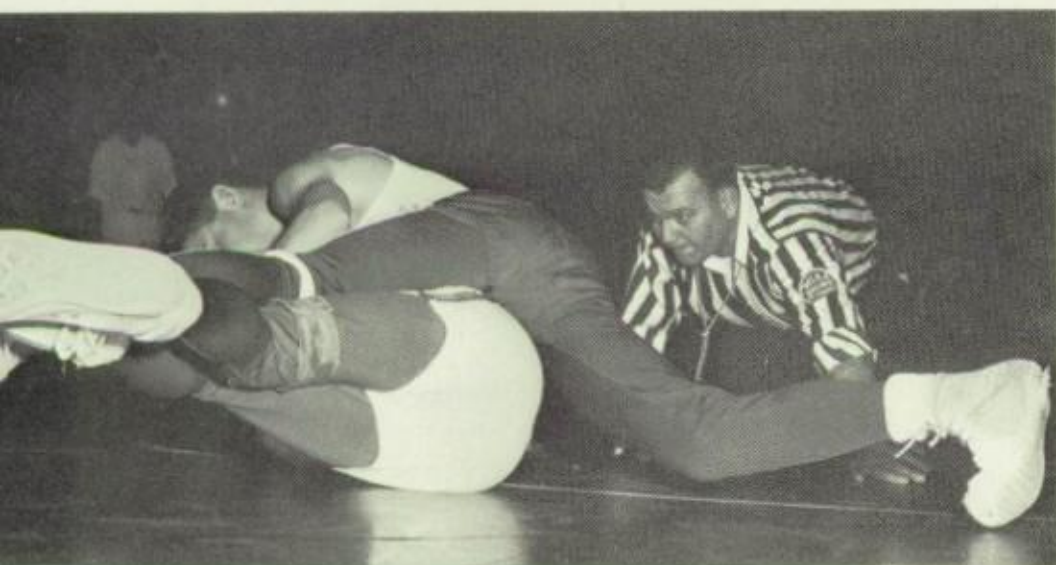

Wrestling is becoming an established sport in our curriculum and is attended widely. For the second year in a row, the wrestlers have won state honors, a due credit to the athletes, coaches, and fans. Wrestling has more potential for participants and shows signs of growing.

Homecoming

HOMECOMING 1963 is only a memory, but a fond memory. The girls on the court were beautiful, the floats were attractive, and the game was well played. What more could be desired?

Queen Rita Burton and King Charlie Wolf stop for that "one more kick for the road."

One-Act Plays

Stage fright and butterflies are forgotten as last minute instructions from THOSE MEN make the casts almost ready to go on.

"No Smoking"

The Setting: a blue-upholstered train car. The Action: a by-play between a gushing matron and a silently disgruntled man. The wandering in and out of a train platform full of people added to the fun. "No Smoking" was a short play, but a gem.

S. Allen, K. Macek, L. Sarver, L. King, M. Wilson, M. Miller, J. Leach, C. Kauth, D. Dohrwardt.

The Melodrama's melodrama is "The Farmer's Daughter." The stereotype casting found Paul Bichler throwing himself into his part; Kris Heinzelman, the lady from Country Corn Flakes; Phil Puerling, Country Clod; Mike Wellert, hero; Judy Barber, the Debutante of Pumpkin Center; Cynthia Robinson, pastoral Eloise. This agricultural farce was well received and enjoyed thoroughly by cast and audience. (The director was not available for comment.)

"Farmer's Daughter"

"Doctor in Spite of Himself"

Burlywoodcutter Pete Joosse has never recovered from the double-pronged attack of shrewish wife Pam Olson and thug-type henchman Dave Opitz and Walter Chossek in "Doctor In Spite of Himself." The play served another purpose in spite of itself, the school's entry in the Forensics Contest for One-Act Plays.

Wyoming Exchange

A dinner sponsored by You'd-Never-Guess-Who fostered contact between the Wyoming group and Port's Civic leaders and others.

Necessary parts of school . . . sponsored excursions . . . beginnings and ends . . . are forever tied to gym circles, lots of people, yellow buses, and assorted suitcases.

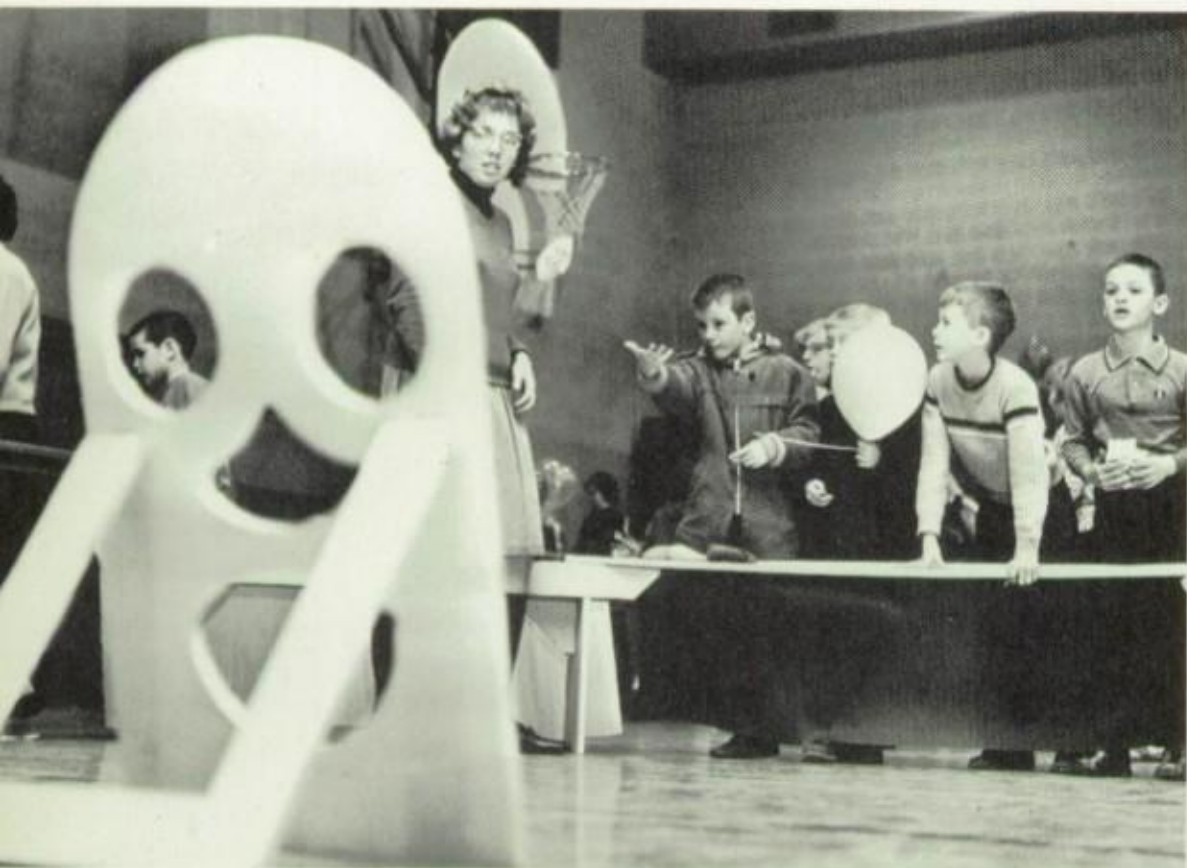

For five cents, just five pennies, one nickle, one-fifth of a quarter, one-twentieth of a dollar, a wonderful world--of amusement, excitement, gaiety, carnival madness--opens to all.

As long as Chuck Kauth is sitting there, the world might as well throw mashed potatoes at him.

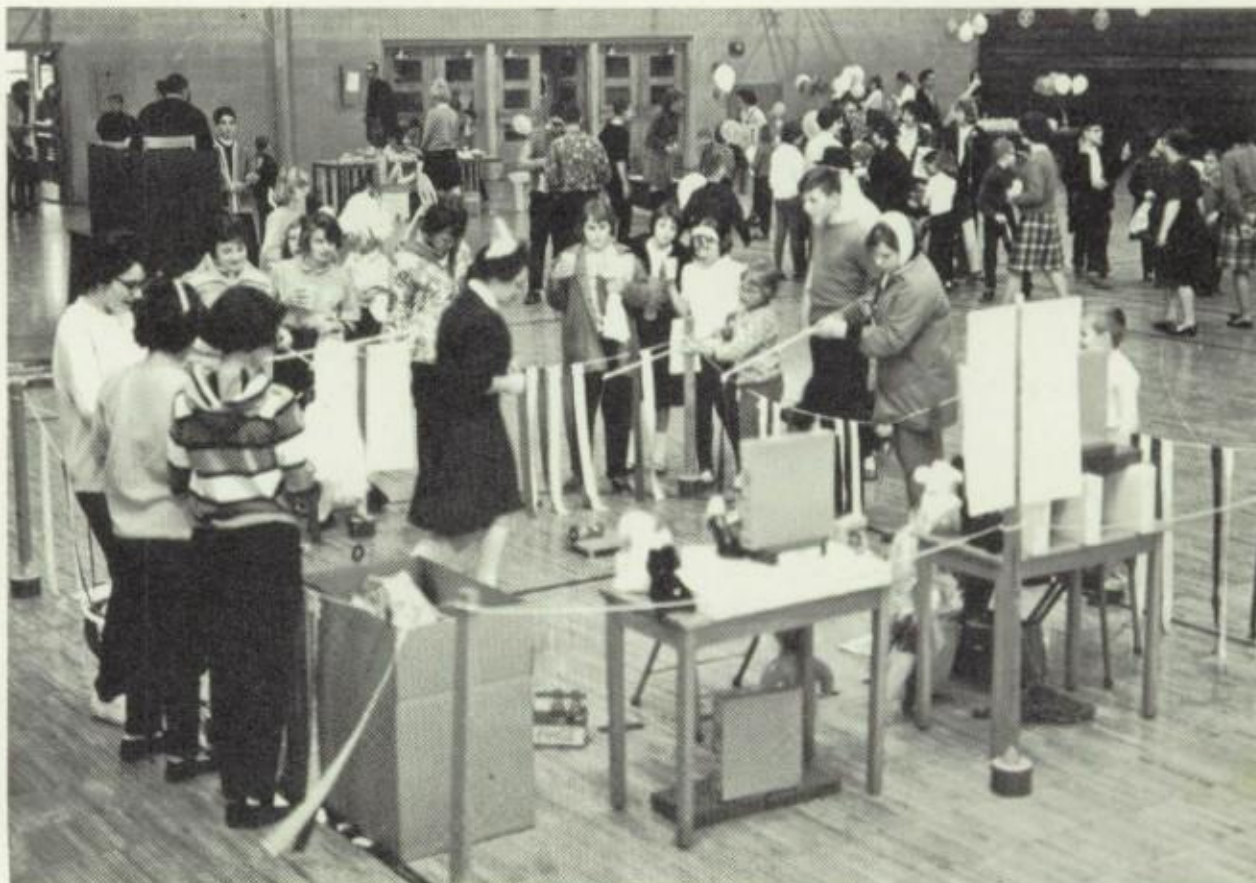

Campus

Carnival

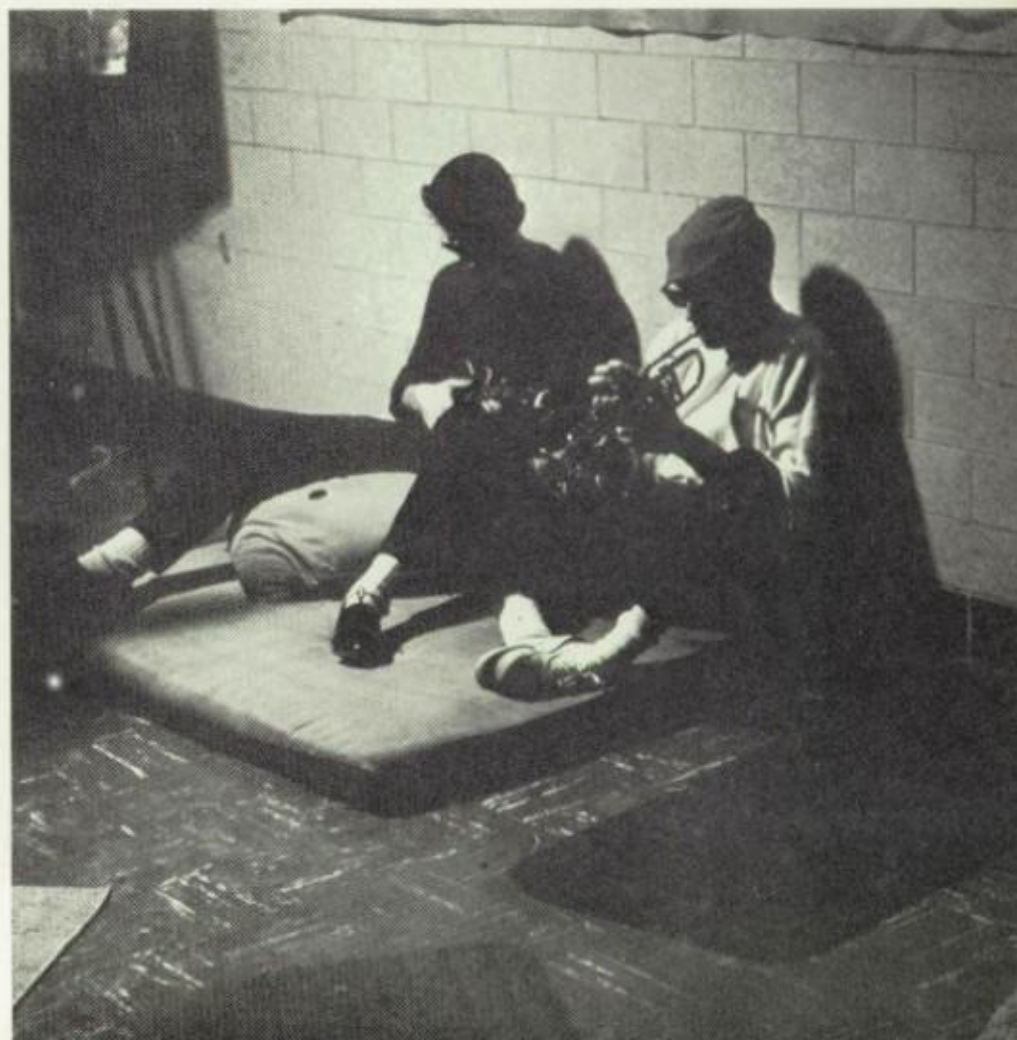

Phyllis Zastrow stops to consider a plea: "Come on lady, give me another try. That one slipped. Honest it did!"

Student Council's first venture into the world of high finance was a Campus Carnival on February 1. Clubs and organizations supported the Carnival by running booths; individuals by attending. Lacking only an organ grinder and his monkey, the Carnival was judged a success. And why now? All the world loves a carnival.

Mr. DeGroot, Adviser of the Student Council, is obviously pleased with Council's successful project.

Lazy, languid, lonely notes of rejection float from "The Pad," the secluded, exclusive, sophomoreic "Pad."

Washington-New York

Class Trip

The Esselmann Memorial-- lard-filled.

Easter vacation brings the New York-Washington trip with its high points, low points, solemn moments, hilarious anecdotes, endlessly brief train rides, briefer nights.

Some eighty-odd seniors came home. With them they brought memories of square-wheeled railroad cars, Carl and his Camera in Congress, stifling cities, hurried meals, little sleep, Ron and his twin in front of the capitol, and art photographs.

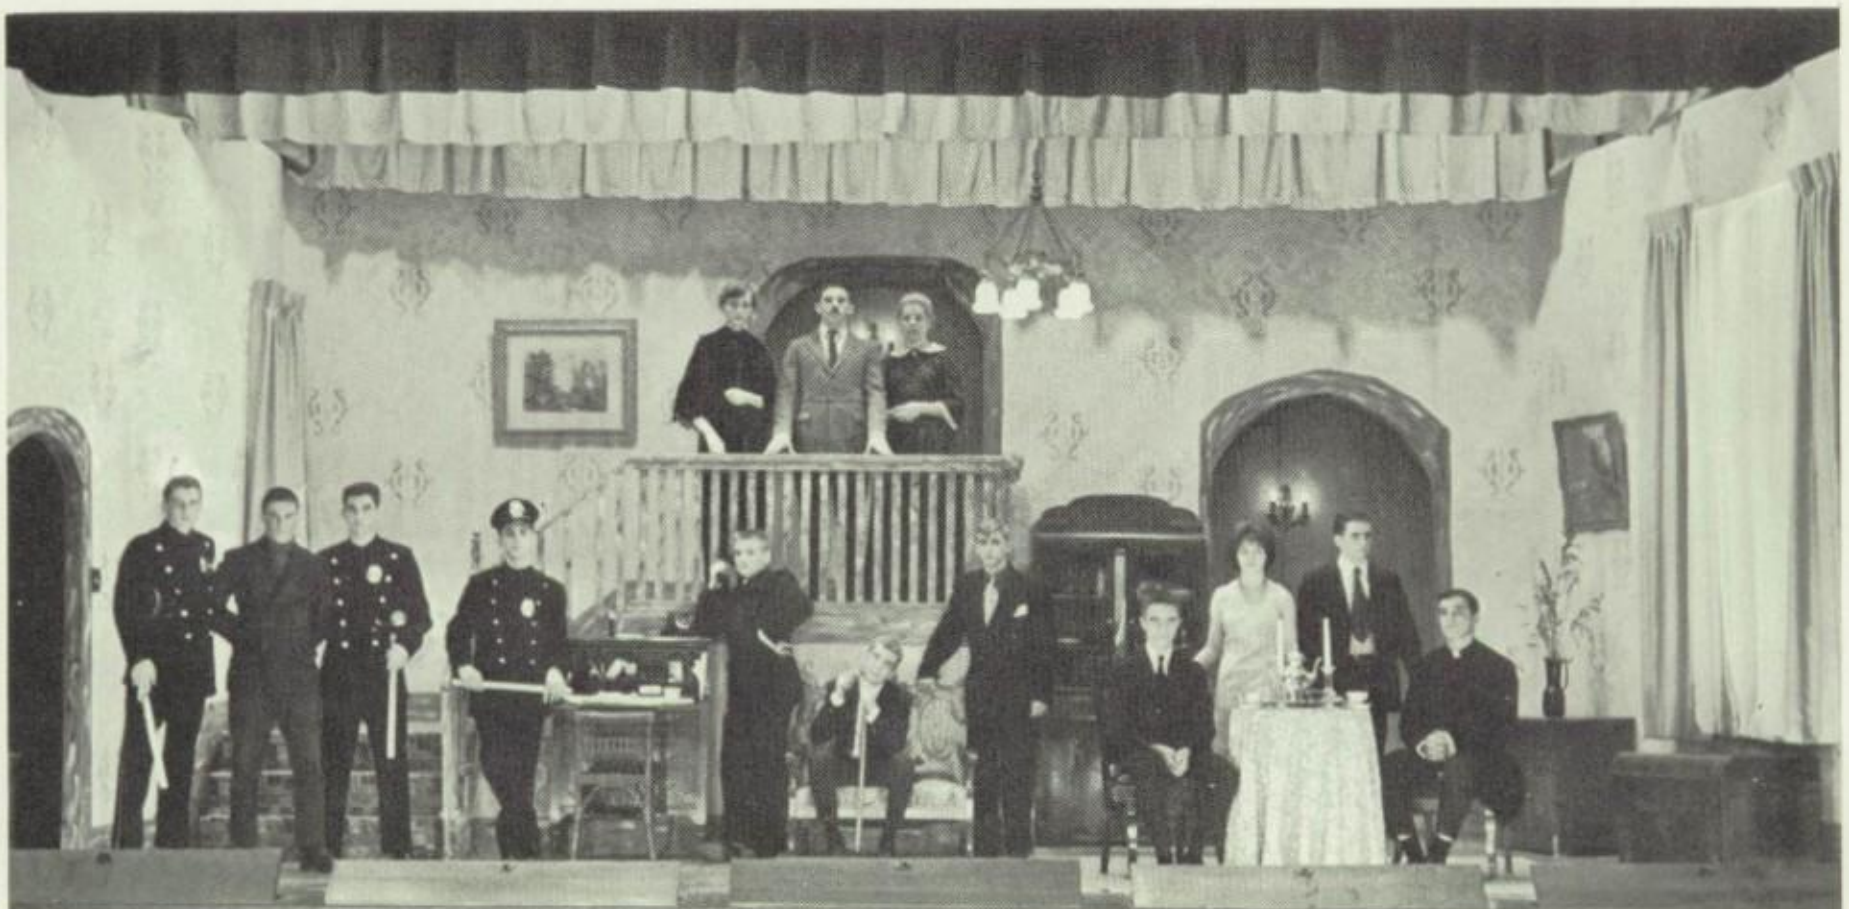

Knowing that Elaine finds Mortimer adequate, Teddy cavalierly charges the stairs.

Arsenic and Old Lace

"Won't you try a glass of our wine?"
 "Yes, do, A little won't hurt."
 "Why, thank you."

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE--the play that has everything: law and law breakers, mayhem and romance, San Juan Hill, afternoon tea, bodies in the window seat, and the President of the United States. In a rare moment of togetherness, Mike Dickmann and Jim Allen (Toody and Muldoon) keep Boris Puerling under control while Dave Antoine contemplates life and Dave Dohrwardt calls the cops. Dave Weiss, unsuspecting bystander, considers his hapless fate while Pete Joosse, human mouse, searches for a way to escape his. Meanwhile, back at the tea table, Pam Olson and Bob Smith (standing) cling to their sanity and each other and Walter Schmitz and Reverend Opitz (seated) cling to their sanity. Above all, the mad Brewsters, Joyce Poklasny, Dave Cherny, and Cecilia Pujanauski, grimly survey their mad, mad, mad, mad world.

Old Fashioned

Stroll

The Grand March, a most appropriate part of an "Old Fashioned Stroll."

1964 Royalty: Gayle Robbins escorted by Phil Puerling, Kris Heinzelman and Mike Bauschelt, Queen Patricia Hurst and King David Ratatori, Sherri Curtis and Jack Deppish, and JoAnn Woltring and Dick Muehlberg. Crown bearers: Cindy Woltring and Kurt Macek.

Three coins in the fountain . . . through the ripples how they shine . . . just one wish will be granted . . . make it Bob Plier's.

King David and Queen Patricia seek a moment's respite from the incessant flashbulbs.

They could have danced all night.

"Ye Gods!"

"The difficult we do immediately; the impossible takes a little longer, like about three weeks." Thus goes the motto of the directors, cast, and crews of "Ye Gods!" a parody of Homer's Illiad and high school musicals.

Charlie Wolf, the Boy from Troy (hero, hero), steals a quiet moment with Nancy Conway, Sweet as Watermelon.

"Wait for the whistle and then come out fighting," exhorts Referee Wayne Learned.
TROY'S BOYS: R. Voge, R. Klopp, P. Bichler, C. Buser. GREEK FREAKS: J. Feith, G. Brouillette, C. Kauth, J. Welch, D. Krebs.

Troy's Proud Parents: Little Daddy Dave Cherny and Big Mama Karen Pankiewicz Cherny.

Oh Look. Look, look. Look at Lippe. Color him lovely. Also embarrassed.

We Have Been Taught to Prepare

Democracy's tradition calls for a government to act as the people's expedient. These class officers showed their expediency by working not only for their respective classes' benefit, but also the benefit of the individual class members. Their work will be remembered. SENIOR OFFICERS (FALL TERM) First two swings, SEATED: Karen Schaefer--secretary, Sharon Schueller--vice president, Pat Riley--president. JUNIOR OFFICERS (FALL TERM) Second two swings, SEATED: Judy Barber--secretary, Doug DeGroot--treasurer, Jack Deppisch--vice president, Bob Wellenstein--president. SOPHOMORE OFFICERS: Third two swings, SEATED: Nola Scherer--secretary, Laurie King--president, Jim Miller--treasurer, Jeff Leach--vice-president.

Class Officers

Four years of work directed and coordinated by four progressive sets of class officers culminated in a handshake the evening of June 11, 1964 . . .

For This Auspicious Occasion.

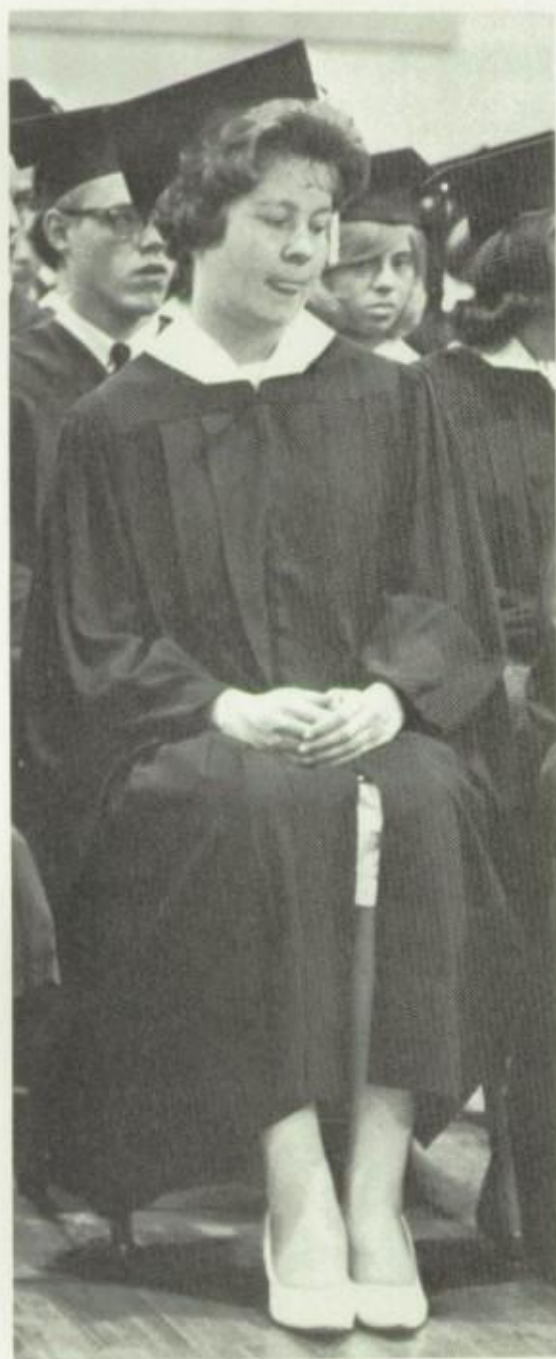

Commencement

... a handshake more significant than any previously offered. It symbolized the recent flurry of preparation, ordering of announcements, fitting of caps and gowns. It epitomized four years of a lifetime. It was a momentary lifeline from the adult world, quelling tremors of fear.

Sharon Schueller, Class President, addresses "Graduates, Honored Guests, Faculty, Parents, and Friends."

Commencement

1964

Commencement is a time of congratulations. Mr. Douglas S. Ritchie, Town Principal, congratulates Judy Bretl. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burton, Town Parents, congratulate their daughter, Rita.
